RECOMMENDATION OF JORDAN CO. FOR SEWER LINE RE-CONSTRUCTION

The following article, basically an excerpt from the Edward C. Jordan Company report on Pollution Control Facilities in Bethel may be of some interest to local townspeople. This article covers pumps and force mains necessary to combine the five current sewer outfalls and transport the sewerage to a pollution control facility.

Present pollution control requirements within the State of Maine dictate that all discharges of raw wastewater to any of the water courses in the Bethel area must be discontinued. Thus, all of the five current outfall sewers must be collected together and transported to a treatment plant site for processing prior to discharge to a receiving water. Of the receiving waters in the Bethel urban area the Androscoggin River carries, by far, the most flow and provides large volumes of dilution water. Thus, while it would be possible to discharge an effluent to Mill Brook or Kendall Brook, it would be highly desirable to discharge effluent from the treatment plant to the Androscoggin River. This consideration and study of topography would indicate that the treatment plant site, would, in all likelihood, be located northerly of the railroad tracks easterly of Route 26. Thus, the intercepting system must collect the flow from each of the five outfalls and transport it to the vicinity of Main Street and the railroad for ultimate transport to the treatment plant.

Two existing sewers discharge to Mill Brook in the vicinity of Mill Hill Road. The proposed intercepting system in this area consists of the construction of an 8-inch sewer from the existing outfall at Mill Brook which will run northerly along Mill Brook to the vicinity of the existing 8-inch outfall. At this location a small underground pumping station will be installed with a force main running easterly to Church Street, then southerly in Church Street to the intersection of Main Street where it will enter the existing Main Street sewer. Through the construction of this facility all sanitary waste discharges to Mill Brook will be discontinued and all wastewater flows will be carried in the Main Street intercepting sewer to the vicinity of the railroad.

Bridge Street, from the intersection with Cross Street, is served by a small section of sanitary sewer running northerly in Bridge Street discharging into the Androscoggin River in the vicinity of the bridge. The proposed intercepting system for this outfall will consist of the installation of a small ejector station in the vicinity of the bridge with a force main running behind the buildings on Bridge Street in the vicinity of the lumber storage area southerly to Cross Street. An intercepting sewer will then be constructed to Cross Street from the terminus of the force main running easterly to the intersection of lower Main St. (Route 26).

A proposed extension of the sanitary sewer on Route 25 will require discontinuance of the existing outfall and ditch to Kendall Brook. In its place the wastewater will be concentrated at a low point on Route 35. The intercepting system at this point will consist of an underground pumping station and a force main which will lift the wastewater into the existing sewer in

FLOWAGE TESTS TO BE CONDUCTED ON BETHEL WATER SYSTEM

The engineering firm of Edward C. Jordan Co. will be conducting flowage tests on the local water system facilities on Monday and Tuesday, April 15 and 16. Bethel Water District officials inform their subscribers that temporary interruption of service may be experienced during the conduct of these tests.

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

Work on the 1968 tax assessment is in progress. Leo Gagnon, assessor's clerk from Rumford, is doing the Transfers and New Construction for the local assessors.

Snow traveling vehicles are a problem as there have been many purchased and traded the past year. Owners of these machines should declare them so there will be less chance of error in the assessment. The only way the assessors know the model, year and horsepower is for the owners to tell them. These machines are taxed according to the above and unless a taxpayer informs the office he can be taxed for a new machine when he has purchased a used one. We have a small percentage of machines declared so all the assessors can do is make inquiries and tax according to the information they are able to gather.

If the owners would send the facts to the assessors, the chance of them being over taxed would be lessened.

TOTAL LUNAR ECLIPSE TO OCCUR APRIL 12

If the weather is clear on Friday evening, April 12, observers across the United States will have an excellent opportunity to see a total lunar eclipse.

From the eastern United States, the whole eclipse will occur in a dark sky, with mid-eclipse about a quarter hour before midnight, Eastern Standard Time. In the far west, the moon will enter the earth's umbral shadow before evening twilight ends, yet all of the 50 minutes of totality will be visible under favorable conditions.

The moon will pass through the southern part of the earth's shadow starting at 9:11 p. m. Eastern Standard Time, when it enters the penumbra, or outer shadow, with total eclipse beginning at 11:22 and ending at 12:12 a. m. By 2:25 Saturday morning the moon will have traveled completely through the shadow.

Although Pacific coast residents will view another lunar eclipse next October, the next total one to be visible in this area will not occur until February of 1971.

U. OF M. ENROLLMENT HAS 4,500 INCREASE IN SEVEN YEARS

In the last seven years the University of Maine has grown from 4,700 full time students and an educational and general budget of $2,500,000 to where next fall the enrollment will be 9,200 full-time students and the budget will total about $21,500,000. These figures were cited by U-M Vice President for Academic Affairs Dr. H. Austin Peck in a talk before the university's Development Council at the Portland campus.

Peck told members that "We have reached the point at which Maine people accept the idea that the University of Maine should educate large and increasing numbers of undergraduate students."

the vicinity of Crescent Street. From this point the wastewater will enter the Main Street intercepting system and be carried to the point of concentration in the vicinity of the railroad. Upon construction of this system all of the sanitary waste water within the village area will be concentrated at the intersection of lower Main Street and Cross Street just northerly of the railroad. From this point the wastewater will be transported to the treatment plant.

(Planned future articles will discuss the treatment facility and estimated cost break-downs.)

INTERESTED CITIZENS OF S. A. D. 44 TO ORGANIZE DOLLARS FOR SCHOLARS

A public meeting to outline plans for a local Citizens' Scholarship Foundation will be held at 2:00 p. m. Sunday, April 28, 1968 in the Teletar Regional High School. Following a meeting to elect officers and acquaint people of its program, Ralph K. Ryder, Superintendent, will conduct a tour of the new buildings.

The aim of the CSF program is to raise one dollar or more per person in our area for a local scholarship program. Main basis for award of the CSF scholarship is financial need. It is designed to help students for whom existing scholarships are not available.

Many scholarships, Ernest Packard, chairman, said are available for top students regardless of need, whereas, many deserving students in financial need are left out scholastically. CSF seeks to help these needy "B" and "C" students.

Residents of the S. A. D. 44 area can establish a local CSF chapter and plans for such a step will be outlined at the April 28th meeting. We need interested people from each S. A. D. 44 community to have a voice in how this program will be set up and how the awards will be given out.

Dollars for Scholars was started in 1958 by Dr. Irving A.

She has been in the State Department more than 20 years and is one of this nation's few women ambassadors.

Miss Margaret Joy Tibbetts

Others to be awarded honorary degrees are:

John M. Googin, a Lewiston High School graduate and a Bates alumnus of 1944, now a nuclear scientist, will receive an honorary doctor of science degree.

George H. Ellis, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston, doctor of laws.

Overseas assignments have taken Miss Tibbetts twice to the embassy in London, to the former Belgian Congo as a consul and to Belgium as the chief political officer of the embassy. In Washington she has headed an office dealing with politico-military affairs in Europe. President Johnson named her to the ambassadorial post in 1964.

Franklin, a Fall River, Mass., optometrist, who felt as many do that local effort was the best way to help students. Since then thousands of high school graduates have been helped.

Ernest Packard stressed that all citizens are invited to attend this meeting and also one being held by the Steering Comm. at the Newry School at 7:00 p. m. Sunday, April 21. SUNDAY RIVER

— Mrs. R. M. Fleet, Corres. —
Mrs. Julie Daye, Mrs. Lina Reynolds and Mrs. Jeannine Fleet were in Rumford one day last week.

Dr. and Mrs. Loy Harrell and friends of Bethel were in town Sunday. Dr. Harrell plans to build a house this summer. I sometimes wish we were back in the 1930s then maybe we could all turn in and give a few hours of help on the job.

Mrs. Lina Reynolds plans to return to her work Monday. Her back is better.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Armstrong of Berlin, N. H., were Sunday callers at R. M. Fleet's.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Verrill and a friend of Concord, Mass., are here but a little late for making syrup as they had a fifteenth wedding party on March 27. All their children and grandchildren were present. In all there were 70 guests.

They say its warm down there and they have put some of their house plants outside. Boo, they surely would shiver here with a white frost and only 28 above Sunday A. M.

On our way to Bethel after the recent wind I was looking to see if any of our neighbors had lost roofing as we had. Oh yes, sorry to say others have. I also counted eight telephone and light poles with small limbs on the cross arms and on the wires. This must make it hard for the maintenance crew, if other places are as bad.

SOUTH WOODSTOCK

Saturday, March 30, was observed as "thirteenth sabbath" in the South Woodstock Sabbath School. An offering of $105 was received to help build new churches in Spain.

The observance of 13th Sabbath was begun in Adventist churches in 1912. The total amount received from all churches on the first 13th Sabbath was $6,674.13. This has increased until now more than ten times that amount is received on one Sabbath. The first mission field to benefit from this offering was India. Since 1912 millions of dollars have been given and every mission field throughout the world has benefitted by it. This quarter the Australasian Division will be featured in the Sabbath Schools. This includes not only Australia, but the islands in the Central Pacific. Pastor Shaw will hold his fourth Evangelistic service in the Seventh-day Adventist Church on Tuesday evening at 7:30, on April 16. His topic will be: "Crime in Our Streets. Why is it on the increase?" The public is invited to attend.

GREENWOOD CITY

— Mrs. Collie Morgan, Corres. —
At 5:20 a. m., April first they arrived after a long winter elsewhere.

Four ducks on a pond,
A grass-bank beyond,
A blue sky of spring,
Birds on the wing
What a little thing
To remember for years.
(W. Allingham)

There was a keen wind swaying the trees, bending and rustling the reeds and driving the clouds when they seemed to drop from the heavens to the open water before us. They quacked with cautious excitement and swam in erratic semicircles with heads erect. Indeed it was a picture to remember as we looked across the water to the crests of the trees and hills just being touched by the rising sun.

Who could help but feel humility as these four moved on this majestic canvas nature had drawn for us. Occasionally they mounted the strip of ice to stroll, stretching their wings and seeming superbly sure of themselves. We observed them all during breakfast as they swam up, then down stream!

Early spring brings several species but all do not stay. However some remain all summer to nest, raise their young and to feed along the shore.

Last August, one morning early there was a scene I'll never forget. Mother Duck crossed to our shore with several babies on her back. They scrambled off just tiny things, swam and followed Mother until she was ready to return. Then on they jostled for their return ride. Although I had heard of this it was my first actual observance.

Once again we approach the Easter season. Eastertime, like Christmastime is a glorious season of the year. We perhaps think more of kindness, happiness and joy. It fills the hearts of the young and to those who get that old nostalgic feeling it brings back scenes of childhood times.

But the cry goes out over this troubled world, "How shall we find peace?"

We plod on hopefully in our world of perplexities guided on our way by the light of hope — this high mark of hope that one day the shadows of insecurity will be lifted and joy and peace will come again. Perhaps the words of Robert Louis Stevenson were right: "To travel hopefully is better than to arrive".

Easter brings the scent of the Easter lilies and the awakening of the earth from its long sleep! There is springtime in the land and winter only in the hearts of ruthless men.

It is Easter! In all churches, in hospitals, and in the battle camps, there will be heard the words of the Easter Scripture "I am the Resurrection and the Life . . ."

Choirs throughout the land will sing — perhaps the words of an old hymn: "From death to life eternal, from the world to the sky Our Christ hath brought us over with hymns of victory."

So at this time of unrest let's stop for a time and recapture at least for a little while the peace and joy of this Easter season.

"The life of a soul on earth lasts beyond his departure. You will always feel that life touching yours, that voice speaking to you, that spirit looking out of other eyes, talking to you in the familiar things he touched, worked with, loved as familiar friends. He lives on in your life and in the lives of all others that knew him."

The directors of the association feel it is necessary and important that all the residents of Oxford County know about the services that are now offered. This newspaper will offer a series of three articles to explain what we are doing.

First, does Oxford County need a mental health clinic? Yes. Our residents are typical of people all over the United States, and mental well-being is the nation's number-one health problem. These are times of stress and high-key living, and this kind of pressure affects persons of all

MAGALLOWAY

— Mrs. Bessie Harvey, Cor. —

GLENTWOOD B. BENNETT

Glentwood Borden Bennett who died Friday at the Cozy Inn nursing home in Rumford at the age of 66 years was the son of Archibald and Nora Bennett and was born Feb. 7, 1902, in Wentworth Location, N. Y. He had resided in Oquossoc 21 years.

Glentwood was a famous guide and woodsman and was a great lover of nature. He especially loved the wild birds and fed them all the time. He had a great collection of books on birds.

Survivors are his widow, Erma Perkins Bennett, Oquossoc; his father, Auburn; a daughter, Mrs. William Churchill, Farmington; a stepdaughter, Mrs. Kenneth Grant, Dixfield; two stepsons, Floyd Emerson, Andover, and Roy Emerson, Thomaston; two sisters, Mrs. Sybil Mulherin of Litchfield, Mrs. Martha Benness of Auburn; a brother, Clarence, of Portland; also three grandchildren; an aunt, Mrs. Mabel Cameron of Errol and three cousins, Mrs. Bessie Harvey, Mrs. Catherine Bragg, both of Magalloway, and Mrs. Gladys Bennett of Wilson's Mills. There are also several nieces and nephews.

There were services Monday afternoon at the Meader and Son funeral home, Rumford, Rev. Clyde E. Park officiating. Entombment in the Sunnyside Receiving Vault, Rumford. Burial will be in Woodlawn Cemetery, Andover, later in the spring.

ages and all income brackets. One in every ten Americans suffers from an emotional or a mental disorder; more than one-half of hospital beds in these United States are occupied by someone suffering from some form of mental illness.

To consider Oxford County in particular; in 1965 Oxford County had thirteen suicides, and two homicides. In 1966 over five percent of our 841 new babies were illegitimate—and this figure does not include those children whose mothers later married. Oxford County has averaged 92 divorces over the last five years, and a large number of children were involved. In 1966, 72 Oxford County residents were admitted to the Augusta State Hospital. In the same year there were 34 new juvenile cases on probation to correctional institutions.

These figures do not present a pleasant picture of emotional health. Hoping to improve the situation, the Oxford County Mental Health Association came into being. It is now in its second year of operation. Although State and Federal funds are used in addition to appropriations from the several towns in the county, the authority of the association lies with a board of directors, all of whom are residents.

Next week we will tell you about our services and about the men in charge. The third week will describe how the clinics are financed.

SCHOLARSHIPS TOTALLING $7700 AVAILABLE

Rumford Community Hospital and the Hospital Auxiliary announce that applications for health career scholarships will be accepted until April 20.

In the past, nursing scholarships have been made available to meet the growing need for nurses in the vicinity. Because the need has become as critical in other areas, scholarships will now be available in all phases of professional health careers.

These scholarships, totaling $7700, are available to all students living in the area served by the hospital. Recent high school graduates who wish to continue their education in the health career field may also apply. High school students should make application through their guidance directors. Others may apply at the personnel department of the hospital.

BETHEL HISTORICAL SOCIETY STARTS ENDOWMENT FUND

The Bethel Historical Society is starting a fund-raising project to secure means for the purchase of a permanent home. There is urgent need for a place where meetings could be held, but especially for safe storage, where materials from early Bethel days could be put on display for the pleasure of the many people interested. At present gifts of antiques may not be accepted for lack of suitable safe housing. Funds are the prime consideration.

This first Historical Society drive is ambitious. The plan is to secure a mile of pennies—$844.80 in all—to start an endowment fund. One mile contains 1760 yards. One yard of pennies is 48 cents. Each friend of the Historical Society is being solicited for one yard of pennies, although donations of any amount would be thankfully accepted. Incidentally the two pennies in change, if donated with the other 48 out of a half dollar would add another $35.20 to the endowment. Please deliver your yard of pennies to Faye Taylor at the Savings Bank. Or come to the next regular meeting of the Historical Society on April 23 in the Bethel Library and bring your pennies and your dues.

To date there are 53 yards of pennies now in: Velma Spencer, 2 yards; Rebecca Kendall, Maurice Kendall, Bryant Bean, Kathleen Bean, 1 yard; Anne Trewworgy, 4 yards; Beatrice Conrad, Florence Thurston, Marie Nichols, 1 yard; Neil Valentine, 2 yards; Carroll Valentine, 2 yards; Doris Chase, Ellie Bennett, Faye Taylor, 1 yard; Eva Bean, 2 yards; Roger Conant, 5 yards; Leonard Pierce, Helen Pierce, David Thompson, Erma Thompson, Mary Moore, 1 yard; Sidle Vachon, 10 yards; Edmond Vachon, 10 yards.

PLANNING BOARD EXPLAINS ZONES AND PERMITTED USES IN EACH

Before going into each of the specific zones and the permitted uses in them, this article will explain the development of municipal planning.

Municipal planning is set up by state statutes in Title 30 of the Maine Revised Statutes. This is quite a lengthy document, but it spells out the rules and gives guide lines to the Planning Board. It also sets up the manner of appointments to the board. It states, "The board shall prepare, adopt, and may amend a comprehensive plan containing its recommendations for the development of the municipality."

The state's interest in zoning is brought out by this statement, "A zoning ordinance shall be drafted as an integral part of the comprehensive plan for municipal development, and for promotion of the health, safety, and general welfare of the residents of the community." The statute goes on to explain what the Zoning Board of Appeals is, its membership and the method of appeal. The Planning Board, and the Board of Appeals have completed with each of the rules set down in the law so that Bethel's development could be in line with the state's regulations.

In order that everyone may better understand each of the zones set up by the zoning ordinance, an article will be devoted to each of them separately. This article will concern itself with the General Residential District (R-1).

This district is one in which the main use of land is for single family dwellings along with recreational, educational, and religious facilities that are desired for well-rounded neighborhood living. On the maps there are open areas included in this district where residential growth appears likely.

The permitted uses are: single family dwellings; private, non-commercial stables; public and private schools; churches; public facilities and grounds (parks); customary home occupations such as the office of a physician, dentist, lawyer, artist, musician, architect, engineer, beautician, or the accommodation for no more than 2 boarders or roomers; and agricultural use is permitted except for the commercial raising of livestock or poultry. It is necessary under each of these permitted uses to set up regulations so that homes will not become crowded too closely together, and so that any of the permitted uses that might be offensive to a neighbor be given plenty of space. Signs and sizes of signs are controlled so that residential neighborhoods do not become

MANY CONTESTANTS SEEK "MISS REPUBLICAN" TITLE

Officials of Oxford County's "Miss Republican Ball", to be held at Oxford Hills High School at South Paris, Maine, on Friday evening, April 19th, report that entries from many contestants are being received.

No talent is required of the "Miss Republican" contestants and the judges will pick the "Queen" entirely on the attractiveness of her appearance and personality.

At the conclusion of the Ball, Republicans plan to escort the Queen home at the head of a motorcade. She will ride in the official "Miss Republican" automobile which will have her carpool sign attached.

For her first official appearance at the State Convention in Bangor, May 10 - 11, her wardrobe will be furnished by the County Committee. It appears that Oxford will have the only official "Miss Republican" at the State Convention and she will be introduced to the delegates at the opening session on Friday afternoon.

Reservations for "Miss Republican" and her chaperone have been made at Bangor for Friday night.

filled with advertising signs and posters.

There are some uses that would not be appropriate generally or would not be appropriate without restriction in the residential area. These are called Exceptions, and if they are controlled as to number, location, relation to the neighborhood, and how they will be kept and maintained they may be permitted after they are approved by the Board of Appeals. The exceptions listed are: nursery schools; nursing homes and medical facilities; 2 family and multi-family dwellings; inns, motels, tourist homes; neighborhood retail and service businesses, and individual mobile homes provided they meet the requirements of single family dwellings. The Planning Board welcomes any questions and would like to try to clear up any misunderstanding of the regulations in the residential district. Questions should be directed to the Town Manager, or to Mrs. James Hudson, chairman of the Planning Board.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Sweetser of Jamaica Plain, Mass., spent the week end in town visiting relatives.
